The Project

As part of Alder King's Facilities Management department's ongoing property and estates advisor role with the Children & Family Court Advisory and Support Service (CAFCASS), Alder King was instructed to acquire and fit out new regional offices in central Slough.

In close consultation with the CAFCASS regional manager, Alder King were instructed to undertake the acquisition and internal fit out of the building under a term commission agreement, including design, space planning, procurement and project management duties.

The 'fast track' scheme set out to not only achieve the CAFCASS corporate accommodation model, but to improve upon previous schemes and was completed to an exacting high quality finish within agreed cost and time parameters.
